

Appendix M

PARLIAMENTARY, GLC AND GLA ELECTIONS IN HARROW, 1978-2001

This Appendix sets out results for Parliamentary, Greater London Council (GLC), European Parliament, Mayor of London, and Greater London Assembly (GLA) Elections. The format is similar to the main results tables except for the inclusion of an extra column showing the % share of the vote achieved by each candidate. A cross (+) before the name of a candidate in 1979 indicates either a member of the previous (1974-1979) Parliament, or before the name of a candidate in 1981 a member of the previous (1977-1981) Greater London Council. An asterisk (*) indicates a forfeited deposit. Turnout is based on the number of valid votes cast.

Polling dates for the various elections were as follows:

Parliamentary	1979	Thursday 3 May	1992	Thursday 9 April
	1983	Thursday 9 June	1997	Thursday 1 May
	1987	Thursday 11 June	2001	Thursday 7 June
GLC	1981	Thursday 7 May
European	1979	Thursday 7 June	1994	Thursday 9 June
	1984	Thursday 14 June	1999	Thursday 10 June
	1989	Thursday 15 June
Mayor/GLA	2000	Thursday 4 May

In 1979 the European Parliament constituency of London North-West comprised the following constituencies:

Brent East	Harrow Central	Barnet, Chipping Barnet
Brent North	Harrow East	Barnet, Hendon North
Brent South	Harrow West	Barnet, Hendon South

Between 1984 and 1994 the European Parliament constituency of London North-West comprised the following constituencies:

Brent East	Harrow East	Hillingdon, Hayes and Harlington
Brent North	Harrow West	Hillingdon, Ruislip-Northwood
Brent South		Hillingdon, Uxbridge

At the 1999 European Parliament Election an ordered party regional list (without choice) form of proportional representation was used. Seats were allocated between lists in proportion to the votes received using the d'Hondt (largest average) method. (See E. Lakeman and J.D. Lambert, Voting in Democracies, Faber and Faber, London, 1955, p. 87.) For the election Harrow, and indeed the whole of the London North-West constituency, was subsumed within the London region, which returned 10 MEPs. For the first time voting statistics at the Parliamentary constituency level were made available.

The 2000 Mayor of London election used the Supplementary Vote system. If no candidate secured over half of the first choice votes, then all but the top two candidates were eliminated. Any valid second choice votes from those eliminated were allocated to the two candidates left in the race.

In 2000, the Greater London Assembly was elected by an Additional Member System. Fourteen members were elected from traditional constituencies by the first-past-the-post method. The London Boroughs of Brent and Harrow were combined to form one of these constituencies. Voters also cast ballots for the additional eleven members of the GLA, by voting for a party list or for individual candidates. Having taken into account seats won by each party from the constituencies, the additional seats were allocated (using the d'Hondt formula) among those parties winning over 5% of the entire London vote. (See Electing the Mayor and the London Assembly, a pamphlet published by the Electoral Reform Society, for further information. Alternatively, consult House of Commons Library Research Paper 00/53: The Local Elections and Elections for a London Mayor and Assembly, 4 May 2000.)

Approximately 33.3% of electors in Brent and Harrow (and 35.2% of electors in Greater London as a whole) participated in the election. It is clear that the new voting systems caused considerable confusion because there were many rejected votes.

Note: Livingstone was a former Leader of the Greater London Council (1981-1986) and had been elected Labour MP for Brent East in 1987. He sought election as an Independent after failing to be selected as the official Labour Party candidate. Although this action led to Livingstone's expulsion from the Labour Party, his application to re-join was successful in January 2004.

Ben-Nathan contested the election as a "Pro Motorist and Small Shop" candidate. He was opposed to restrictions on parking.
