

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I will always be grateful to the late John Turner and George Gange for their help and assistance when, in the mid-1980s, I first started researching this period of Harrow's electoral history.

The staff of a number of libraries have been most hospitable and courteous when I have visited. Thanks go to past and present staff at: Local History Library, formerly located at the Civic Centre, Station Road, Harrow, but now at the Headstone Manor Museum; Hendon Library and Archives, The Burroughs, Hendon, London NW4; Hillingdon Local Studies, Archives and Museum Service, High Street, Uxbridge; The London Metropolitan Archives, 40 Northampton Road, London EC1. Particular appreciation goes to Hazel Ogilvie (Harrow) and Yasmine Webb and Hugh Petrie (Barnet) for their patience during my many visits. Additionally, I am grateful to Andrew Lott and his colleagues in the conservation team at the LMA for providing images of relevant pages from the 1895 volume of Hendon Guardians Minutes which were unavailable for personal inspection.

Finally, I am grateful to David Boothroyd, a City of Westminster councillor and elections expert, for explaining how the Local Government Act 1894 applied when 'insufficient' candidates were nominated at local government elections.
